FOR PRESIDENT,
JAMES A. GARFIELD,
OF OHIO:

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
CHESTER A. ARTHUR,
OF NEW YORK.

NO DOUBT ABOUT IT.

Democratic papers say the Indiana and Ohio boom was the result of fraud. So it was. It was the protest of a virtuous and indignant people in two great and intelligent States against the most shameless attempts at corruption that a great party has ever attempted. It was the direct result of a corruptly secured Solid South, and of corrupt methods of politics by the same party in the North.

WORTHY OF SUPPORT.

There has never been a party that extended a heartier welcome to foreign born citizens or was more ready to appreciate merit or talent in our adopted brothers than the Republican party. Many of the very highest offices in the Nation have been filled by them, and there is hardly a Republican county in the Union but what has natives of Germany, Ireland or England among its officers. There is a native of Denmark on the Republican ticket. He came to Washoe county in 1861. Since that time he has not hidden his light under a bushel, but has set it on a hill (Mt. Rose) part of the time, and part of the time in Washoe City. He has never been idle an hour that anyone knows of, and has usually carried on three or four kinds of business at once. He has dealt largely in wood and lumber, which came from the mountains about Washoe City. He built a long flume into one of the most forbidding places that a man ever tackled, and made a small fortune out of the wood that he ran out through it. He has carried on a merchandising business at the same time to supply his men and others about that section. He has kept large numbers of men (always white, no Chinese need apply) employed, and has handled immense sums of money. The profits he has not loaned out at usurious rates of interest, as so many do. He has used it in developing one of the finest ranches in the State. Where all was wilderness before, he now has fine crops, a growing orchard, shade trees, houses and barns, alfalfa fields and miles of pasture. He has some of the finest stock on his ranch that there is in Nevada. It is a great pity that we haven't a few hundred such men as P. N. Marker in Washoe County, instead of half a dozen. He seems never to tire; never to need rest, or if he does, he rests himself by dropping one kind of work and picking up another. The funny thing is, he never seems to be busy. He has always a minute to talk to everyone he knows. He is never in a hurry, never in a fret, never out of temper. At the same time none of the many irons he has in the fire ever burns. Whatever is going on is being well done, and he knows every minute just how far along it has got. There are not many men in Washoe county to whom the Republican party owes a larger debt than to Mr. Marker. Few men have been so steadfastly and thoroughly loyal to it. Few indeed, have labored more uninterruptedly for its success. Few have done their work more quietly and pushed forward the party banner more energetically, while they themselves remained in the background. No one ever heard of Pete Marker asking for anything. It was not the flesh pots that captured him. It was not to be seen of men that he worked. It was to secure for his county the services of the party, and the men that he deemed best able to handle its affairs wisely and well. This fall the Republican party relieved him from the chairmanship of the County Central Committee in order that he might be made one of the candidates for the Assembly. He accepted the nomination as everybody knew he would, and will be elected of course. It would be a great loss to the Republicans if they have a majority in this county, to scratch the name of a man who has done the party such service as he has. We are convinced that if they do, enough Democrats will vote for him to elect him, but that is not the thing. He is the very man we want in the legislature. He is incapable of deceit. He will do in the legislature exactly as he agrees, and his long business career and intimate acquaintance with all our interests and the needs of our county ought to, and we believe will, inspire his triumphant election.

TURN OUT TO-NIGHT.

The Republicans of Washoe County should turn out and give Hon. R. M. Daggett a hearty reception at the Theatre this evening. We are a hundred Republicans short to-day on account of the excursion to Sacramento, and it will require an effort of all hands to get an audience worthy of the speakers. There has been an industrious, as well as an intelligent representative of this State in the National Congress. He received and accepted instructions, before he was elected, and he has carried them out to the letter. We have believed that his usefulness would have been greater if he had not been in any way promised. There is not a doubt about the favorable impression our solid little Congressman made in Washington. Not one man in fifty who goes there ever gains such standing in two years as he has. Every department has had business with him for some of his constituents, and but few members, if any, did more real, downright good work for their State in the way of new laws. When Mr. Daggett went to Washington he dropped all his own business. He had no mines to sell, no fish to fry, but he devoted his time and talents to his work as Congressman, and that is the secret of his success. If the people here want to try a doubtful experiment, let them defeat Mr. Daggett. If they endorse a man who does exactly what they ask him to do, let them reelect him. At all events let every body turn out to-night and hear him.

The Last Democratic Campaign.
SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.
The real purpose of the charge that Garfield wrote a letter to Morley on the Chinese question seems to be shown by the fact that a hundred thousand copies of what purports to be a fac-simile of the letter are announced to have been sent to California alone. Since Garfield's denunciation of the forgery, the best known business men of Lynn, Mass., have publicly testified that no such man as Morley, to whom the letter was addressed, ever lived or died there as was asserted, and the Employers' Union, of which he was reported President, never had any existence in that city.

Chinese in Chicago, Oct. 22.

The census returns show only 174 Chinese in the city and not a woman among them.

Without showing the condition of our teeth. Every laugh exposes them. In order not to be ashamed of them, use that standard dentifrice, SOZODONT, which is sure to keep them white and healthy. No tartar can accumulate on them, so cannot affect the enamel, no species of decay infest the dental bone. If SOZODONT is regularly used. It is a botanical preparation and the beneficial effects on the teeth and gums are marvellous, as it removes all discolored matter, and renders the gums hard and tony.

BOLD BURGLARS.

Two Cases of Burglary Last Night—One Robber Put to Flight by a Woman—Another Gets Away with His Booty.

An unknown man was discovered about 3 o'clock this morning in the act of burglarizing the house of Mr. Fletcher at the Vulcan Powder Works. Mrs. Watson, mother of Mrs. Fletcher, lives in a cottage adjoining, and was aroused by a noise made by the burglar. She rose from her bed and saw a tall man engaged in fitting a key to the lock of the back door of Mr. Fletcher's house, where her daughter was sleeping. She crept out quietly behind him and got close enough to see in the moonlight that he wore a light overcoat, dark trousers and a black hat, and had a pale face. Within a few steps of him she shouted, with truly feminine curiosity.

"What are you breaking in there for?" The burglar did not stop to explain the precise object of his investigation. He fled hastily across the railroad, and towards town. This morning Mr. Watson found a handful of printed billheads of the Vulcan Powder Co., which the thief had taken from a drawer in the summer kitchen. They were thrown into the C. P. wood pile, which the burglar had passed in his flight towards town. It appears that the man had gone through the summer kitchen before trying to enter the house, but found nothing of value.

Between 5 and 7 o'clock last evening someone entered the house of Dr. Wagar, and stole a quantity of jewelry valued at from $30 to $40. Entrance was effected through a front window, during the absence of the family. Mrs. Wagar discovered the theft on her return to the house, later in the evening.

No arrests have been made, and no clue to the criminals has yet been found.

Jottings.

The candidates held a rendezvous at Glendale last night. They did lots of talking, and convincing many doubtful ones.

The Democrats had a big meeting in the theatre last night. Col. Flournoy and Wal J. Tuska made eloquent speeches.

"Good Lord, what fine goods!" was the somewhat profane exclamation heard on Commercial Row last evening. The man who made it was a stranger standing in front of the White House windows.

Democratic Speaking.

Hon. J. C. McTearahan, a Presidential Elector, and Major Stonehill will address the people of Reno Saturday evening, Oct. 23, at Nevada Theatre. Come one, come all, and listen to the words of truth and soberness.

By order of the County Committee.

Meeting of the Bible Society.

The annual meeting of the Reno branch of the Nevada Bible Society will be held to-morrow (Saturday) evening at the school room of the Methodist church, commencing at 7 o'clock. Wm. Webster, Pres.

BARNEY FITZGERALD'S TRIAL.

A Jury Secured at Last—Evidence for the State Proceeds—Yesterday and To-Day.

The little hand of the clock had crept nearly around to 11 yesterday afternoon before twelve jurors had been chosen to try Barney Fitzgerald, and had been formally settled in the so-called box. The twelfth jurymen, chosen out of two venues of thirty men each, was A. G. Fletcher. His name should be transmitted to posterity. The prisoner sat between his counsel, looking pale and somewhat nervous, but cheerful. His bright blue eyes betrayed interest in the proceedings. It is natural that the details of the proceedings in his case should fix his attention, for his life may depend upon the verdict of the jury. That body of twelve had already acquired the patient expression peculiar to jurors, and sat in their seats with an air of resignation and composure, as if fully prepared for being locked up together of nights and herded like cattle during the day. The jurors are Geo. Gertenbach, Silas Flynn, D. L. Hunt, C. W. Wellman, Michael Murphy, H. L. W. Knox, E. Bates, E. Meyer, John Poe, H. W. Miller, B. F. Fletcher and A. G. Fletcher.

THE FIRST WITNESS.

called by the State was Frank Perkins, the material points of whose testimony were substantially as follows: Was behind the counter of the Merchants' Exchange saloon in Reno on the night of the 31st of Jan., 1880, when Thomas Laswell was shot by Barney Fitzgerald; at the time of the shooting, E. C. Johnson, James P. Black, Wm. H. Kelly were present, standing outside the counter; this was about 2 o'clock; a man passed out of the saloon and I asked him if he dim? I saw his gun which he had left with me at the same time offering it to him; he said no and went out; that gave rise to some talk about pistols; Fitzgerald pulled his out of his pocket and threw it on the counter, while the talk was going on, saying: "There's one that never fails to bark; I told him to be careful, that it might go off; he said: 'No, it won't,' took it off the counter, and held it in both hands; then it went off; Fitzgerald was then standing near the counter a few feet from the door; Laswell was about ten feet from him, leaning against the counter; I heard Laswell fall after the first shot; then saw Fitzgerald raise his pistol in his right hand and fire a second shot; heard Laswell say: "Why don't you stop him?" Fitzgerald then put up his gun again and it snapped; he then backed out of the door; heard no talk between F. and L. when they came into the saloon; the shooting happened five or ten minutes after they entered; I expected trouble when they came in; both looked cross; (Fitzgerald's pistol was produced in Court and identified by witnesses. It is a Colt's self-cocking revolver, with two chambers empty, and a cartridge showing a dent that might have been made by the snapping of the hammer. The trigger is easy.—Rep.) Fitzgerald was not looking at Laswell at the time the first shot was fired; but at me; the second shot was fired a few seconds after the first; Fitzgerald aimed his pistol at Laswell on the floor when the second shot was fired; a few seconds after the second shot, I heard the pistol snap.

CROSS-EXAMINED.

On the evening of the shooting Laswell told me that he was going to slap Fitzgerald; about 9 o'clock he told me he had slapped him; they had had four or five rows over cards; Laswell said something about slapping Fitzgerald in the face; F. said: "You have done that once before, and if you ever do it again, you will never slap anybody else;" or words to that effect; they continued playing a little while after this quarrel, and stopped just a short time before the shooting occurred; F. went out first, and some one came in and told L. that F. wanted to see him; L. went out; I heard L. and F. talking outside, but not what was said; expected trouble; they staid out five or ten minutes; L. came in first and was followed by F.; the talk about pistols commenced a few minutes afterwards and then the shooting took place; F. could not have taken aim when the first shot was fired; heard no words between L. and F. at the time of the shooting; the first shot took effect in the abdomen of L.; the second missed him and struck a partition in the back part of the saloon about six inches from the floor; both men had been drinking; F. was, I think, under the influence of liquor; at the time L. fell I did not think he was shot; (a question as to whether the witness thought the first shot accidental or not was excluded by the Court.—Rep.) When F. fired the first shot, I know he did not take aim, that is, he did not sight the pistol or look at L.; cannot say that F. did not look at L. just before the first shot was fired; there was a large mirror on the wall behind the bar; L. was standing nearly opposite the centre of the mirror when the first shot was fired. Court adjourned until 7 p. m.

EVENING SESSION.

Last evening the State called J. B. Black to the stand, whose testimony confirmed in all important points, that given by Perkins. I. M. Chamberlain testified in regard to Fitzgerald's pistol which has been stated above. H. J. Matney gave evidence that he took care of Laswell after the shooting and that Laswell had no weapons on his person. The deposition of Wm. H. Kelly, an absent witness, was read. It was essentially the same as that given by Perkins and Black.

THIS MORNING.

J. F. Holladay, Al. White and M. C. Lake were called by the State. They testified that a man standing in front of the Exchange bar could see the reflection in the mirror of any person in front of the bar, and could see, to shoot that person without looking at him. Drs. Bergman and Lewis testified that Laswell came to his death from the effects of the wound he received. W. L. Ross gave evidence of the prisoner's flight from the saloon after the shooting.

LASWELL'S DEPOSITION.

made shortly before his death, was offered in evidence by the State. Counsel for prisoner objected. The Court excluded it on the ground that it nowhere appeared in the document that the testimony it contained was given by Laswell under the expectation of impending death.

A Close Call.

A brakeman on the C. P. R. R. by the name of Arat, came very near losing his life at Boca, Wednesday morning, by the engine No. 24 passing over him. Arat was on train No. 8, on his way to Truckee, and at Boca there was a car load of beer to go which was lying on a side track with two empties ahead of it. Arat, who was standing at the switch, jumped on the front of the engine for the purpose of raising the draw head of the engine so as to make the coupling. When stooping over to catch hold of the draw head he lost his balance and went under, and the engine and tender both passed over him. Nobody saw him at first except a man standing at the end of the box cars, and as quick as he saw the man fall, he ran to give the engineer a signal to stop, but it was too late. After the tender had passed over him he rolled over once or twice. Brakeman Howe ran to him and found him sitting up looking at one of his hands, which was short two fingers and a thumb. When he made this discovery he fell over in a faint and was lifted into the caboose. He was taken to Truckee, where his family reside, and is now resting easy.
